The Cold War Continues

- 1981: USA announced an increase in its defence budget.
- USA supported right wing governments and gov'ts that didn't respect human rights in order to prevent communism.
- USSR supports pro communist struggles.
- Sept 1983: USSR jets shot down Korean passenger jet that had gone into their air space.
- Oct 1983: US forces invaded Grenada.
- PM Trudeau appealed to the US and USSR to show some more restraint.

Mulroney and the USA

- Mulroney's international relations approaches were the opposite to Trudeau's.
- He worked to bring us closer to the USA.
- 1983: USA came up with an idea to build a defence shield, which would partly orbit the earth. Called Strategic Defence Initiative (SDI).
- Anti-nuclear groups in Canada protested our potential involvement. In the end we declined to get involved.

End of the Cold War

- Mid-1980s: Mikhail Gorbachev (USSR leader) realized they couldn't afford arms race with the USA.
- Gorbachev proposed cuts in both powers' arsenals. Began to reform USSR economically, socially and politically.
- Two policies: perestroika (reconstruction) and glasnost (openness)
- 1991: Soviet Union Collapsed and Cold War was over.
- A new Russia emerged under Boris Yeltsin, ex-commie now supporter of democracy.
- China experimented with allowing capitalism to flourish in certain parts of the economy.
- But it wasn't political freedom.
- June 1989: Tiananmen Square: Red Army soldiers attacked and killed students involved in the democracy movement.

One thing you already knew and one thing in particular that you learned!

Persian Gulf War

- Aug 1990: Iraqi forces under Saddam Hussein invaded Kuwait.
- UN demanded Iraq withdraw, threatening economic sanctions. The US insisted on military force.
- First time since the Korean War, that the UN sanctioned the use of military force.
- US was joined by forces from 35 other countries.
- Mulroney argued that we had agreed to support the UN, not just the US. Critics said economic sanctions hadn't been given enough time.

Continued

- Jan 1991: Coalition forces began bombarding targets.
- Feb 27, 1991: Iraqis were overwhelmed and we had won. There were minimal casualties.
- Gulf War destroyed the Iraqi fighting force and much of their infrastructure.
- Pres. George H.W. Bush declared a new world order. UN would have a more active peacemaking role.

Rwandan Genocide

- Rwandan population divided into two main groups: Tutsis and Hutus.
- Colonial gov't put Tutsis in power.
- 1994: Prominent Hutu was slain. Hutus overthrew Tutsi led gov't. They began to slaughter Tutsis and supporters.
- UN sent a small detachment under Canadian Lt. Gen. Romeo Dallaire.
- He sent an appeal to UN HQ with a military plan to stop the killings.
- He needed speed and the support of the US.
- They were unenthusiastic.
- Dallaire was forced to watch as close to a million people were murdered in the genocide.

Civil War in Yugoslavia

- Post WW2: Yugoslavia was made up of Serbia, Croatia, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Macedonia and Montenegro, also Kosovo and Vojvodina. Led by PM Josip Tito til 1980.
- 1989: Slobodan Milosevic became Serbian Pres. Tensions broke out into ethnic conflict.
- UN Peacekeepers (incl. Canadians) sent in but were unable to control the situation.
- May 1995: NATO forces launched air strikes against Serbian forces, who were perceived to be the aggressor.

Continued

- 1998: Serbian forces moved into Kosovo to keep it under their control. Albanian Muslims were persecuted, murdered and displaced.
- Spring 1999: Diplomatic forces failed to stop Serbian operations. NATO launched first ever attack against independent country.
- Canada took part in the bombings of Yugoslavia. Some Canadians believed we were obligated to help NATO and others believed NATO shouldn't have interfered w. the domestic affairs of a sovereign nation.

9/11

- Sept 11, 2001: Members of a fundamentalist Islamic group called al-Qaeda hijacked four passenger jets.
- Two planes flew into the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center in NYC.
